Register to Attend Florida Blue's Next HEDIS Innovations Webinar on October 28 Presented by the Federal Employee Program

Our 2025 HEDIS Innovations Webinar series is wrapping up. These Healthcare Effectiveness Data and Information Set (HEDIS^{®1}) educational sessions, presented by our Federal Employee Program[®] (FEP), highlight best practices in support of high-quality patient care.

Be sure to register for our final session of the year scheduled on Tuesday, October 28, from noon – 1:15 p.m. ET. It will focus on Glycemic Status for Patients with Diabetes (GSD) and Controlling High Blood Pressure (CBP). In addition to sharing clinical aspects of these measures, we will provide helpful information on coding opportunities and the use of Current Procedural Terminology II (CPT[®] II) codes.

More About Our HEDIS Innovations Webinars

The interactive sessions, led by a Florida Blue Senior Medical Director, help raise awareness of the latest changes related to select HEDIS measures, some tools you can use to close care gaps, and much more. There will also be time for questions and answers. Physicians, mid-level providers, nurses, population health staff, clinical training staff, quality care team members, and coding managers are invited to join us to learn about National Committee on Quality Assurance best practices you may implement in your office.

Looking Ahead

We are pleased to announce the continuation of our webinar series in 2026. Thanks to your engagement and positive feedback regarding this year's events, our next series will kick off in April 2026. Participants in the upcoming webinar will be invited to suggest topics for our upcoming series. We highly value your feedback and look forward to incorporating your suggestions into future sessions.

The AAFP has reviewed HEDIS Innovations Webinar, and deemed it acceptable for AAFP credit. Term of approval is from 04/29/2025 to 10/31/2025. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

This session October HEDIS Innovations Webinar is approved for 1.00 online AAFP Prescribed credit.
