Announcing Florida Blue's Next Quality Innovations Webinar

We are pleased to announce the continuation of our Quality Innovations Webinar series in 2026 with our first session on Tuesday, February 24, from noon – 1:30 p.m. ET. This Healthcare Effectiveness Data and Information Set (HEDIS^{®1}) educational program will highlight key measures and best practices to support high-quality patient care.

The upcoming webinar will address management of chronic obstructive pulmonary disease and best practices to support effective diabetes care, blood pressure control, and medication adherence. Participants will also learn about using related CPT II codes.

Be sure to register to learn more about the plan-specific measures we will discuss during this session:

About Our Quality Innovations Webinars

Florida Blue senior medical directors share the latest guidelines, insights, and best practices about HEDIS measures related to a specific topic and how to close care gaps. Interactive sessions include question and answer segments, allowing participants to engage with the presenter. We encourage physicians, advanced practice clinicians, nurses, population health staff, clinical training staff, quality care team members, and coding staff to attend.
